

In the sale of Stoves and Tin-ware—the supply indicated the demand.

Why then should we not manufacture these articles ourselves?—We have the means to do so, and we are not willing to give employment to men willing and anxious to work, and to send our goods to market, for as cheap as elsewhere?—Examples might be furnished of iron-ware from the various branches of mechanical labor—to show that our nearness to Baltimore is no impediment in the way of manufacturing, as we can be more readily found in market, if we fail to make one at home—The manufacturing towns around Boston, New York, and Philadelphia—having these articles, originally as their centre—have, by their rapid growth, become independent of them and now assume to trade on their own account. Why then—allow us to acquire—should we not imitate their example?—A sound policy is to attend every enterprise with a public character in this community—beginning and carried on, on the joint stock principle. We would suggest, therefore, that the various branches of business hitherto, not undertaken in the beginning on some other principle—that they should be conducted on economical principles by "practical men," and be encouraged and supported by those able to begin the work—having a large amount of stock in the prospective value of real estate, and to some extent controlling and directing the various channels. They could capital in its various channels. They could capital in the formation of a "Manufacturing League" put the ball in motion, which alone would impart vigor and prosperity to our ancient city, where so many advantages exist for the success of such an undertaking. We hope, therefore, that our mechanics will come forward, and plan and put in operation without delay, that which must be resorted to—in order to give employment to our people and sustain the failing fortunes of our City.

By Yesterday Evening's Mail.—Subsides near Washington, Rapp. Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette. WASHINGTON, RAPPAHANNOCK COUNTY, VA., Sept. 1.—Mr. Henry Strother, of Mo., on a visit to his friends in this county, committed suicide yesterday under the following circumstances: He started out squirrel hunting in company with a young friend. After getting into the woods, he proposed to his friend that he should go to an adjoining field to get some peaches, whilst he watched for game; the young man had not long left him when hearing the report of a gun he returned and found Mr. S. weltering in his blood trying to increase the hemorrhage. He lived about twelve hours, but refused to have his wound dressed. Mr. Strother had been in low spirits for some time past.

The Blue Ridge Republican says Mr. Strother killed himself on the farm of Mr. Willis Browning. He placed the muzzle of his gun in his mouth and blew his face entirely off. He was laboring under insanity.

FACQUIER ITEMS.—On Saturday evening last, a Tournament, under the auspices of the young men of Warrenton, came off on the outskirts of the town in the presence of a large crowd of ladies and gentlemen. Six or eight knights joined in the sport. The horseman displayed was most creditable to the young gentlemen who rode knights. The successful champion, Master Willie Foster, after taking the ring four times in succession, was declared the victor; Master White was the next victor; Master E. Fisher the third, and Master Markham Marshall, the fourth. The successful knight, who carried the ring amid the shouts of the multitude, rode under the name of deplume of Van Cluse. The queen of love and beauty was not crowned until late in the evening, when the beautiful Miss Eva Taylor, the chosen favorite, was crowned by her gallant partner, Miss Mary Evans, Miss Annie Thomas, Lucas, and Miss Estelle Washington, were selected as the maids of honor. To say that all were beautiful, would be doing but half justice. The night passed pleasantly away, the merry dance being kept up until late. The party was, indeed, a most pleasant one. The young population enjoyed themselves amazingly, to the evident delight of their parents and friends.

The camp is at the same place it was last year.

The building of the Episcopal Parsonage in town has been contracted for, and the workmen will soon commence it.

There were but two deaths in Warrenton, in 1857, among the white population, and none, as yet, this year. We are glad to state, that there is no sickness worth speaking of, either in Warrenton or the neighborhood, at this time. It is unusually healthy.

They were brought to this place on Sunday night and had a hearing before J. C. Gunnell, esq.—Three of the party were discharged, there being no evidence against them, but the other one named Gilbert, was held to bail in the sum of $1000 to answer the indictment on the November term of the Circuit Court. Maj. Jas. Coleman became security for Gilbert's appearance at that time and he was thereupon released from custody.

On Monday morning Richard Johnson, esq., tried a warrant against John Delany for selling liquor without license—case continued until the following afternoon.

At the re-hearing of the case of John Delany on Tuesday, Sept., Johnson and Williams bound him over to answer for the offence at November Court.

Reception Speeches.—The Louisville Courier perpetrates a pungent take off of the custom of giving receptions to returning members of Congress. It says that when Humphrey Marshall reached this city, Robert E. Baird made a glorious speech. He took his stand upon the wharf, and as the huge form of Humphrey darkened his vision, he lifted up his voice and spoke as follows:

MR. BAIRD'S SPEECH.—"How are you, Colonel?" To this most touching and eloquent reception, Humphrey made the following appropriate and fitting reply:

MR. MARSHALL'S REPLY.—"How do you do, Bob?" These beautiful speeches were taken down as delivered, by a special photographic reporter, and they may be implicitly relied on.

It is composed of vegetables and a variety of the most fragrant compounds, without the least admixture of any mineral or poisonous ingredient. Its use is simple and agreeable, whilst it is distinguished from all other preparations by its extraordinary efficacy in removing tartar, ensuring to the Teeth the most beautiful and pearly whiteness, arresting the progress of decay, and by its corrective and astringent properties inducing a healthy action of the Gums, and a consequent firmness and brightness of colour. It gives peculiar sweetness to the breath, and, if used regularly, will, in a great measure, prevent the suffering occasioned by Tooth-ache, and preserve the Teeth and Gums in a sound and ornamental state to old age. LOCAL ITEMS.—THE WINCHESTER PRESBYTERY (N. S.) commenced its session, in this city, in the Second Presbyterian Church, on Wednesday night, and was opened with a very able discourse by the Moderator, Rev. Patterson Fletcher, of Middleburg, Va., from the 1st Verse of the 12th Chapter of Romans.

"I beseech you, therefore, brethren by the mercies of God—that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy acceptable unto God which is your reasonable service."

His exposition of the text was eminently practical and able, and the exercises generally of the most interesting character.

At the conclusion of the sermon, the Presbytery adjourned to meet yesterday morning, at 9 o'clock.

The following Ministers and Elders answered at the calling of the roll, yesterday morning, when the Presbytery convened.

Ministers.—A. H. H. Boyd, D. D., Thos. D. Bell, Patterson Fletcher, Henry Mathews, John W. McMurray, Robert Gray, and Wm. Crawford.

Elders.—Baily Crane, Robert Jamieson, J. R. Tucker, Robert Crop, and Jas. Smith. Licentiates.—Robert Walton and Robert McMurray.

After the reading of the minutes and the appointing of committees, the Presbytery held a Presbyterial Prayer Meeting for one hour, and on motion adjourned to meet at 3 o'clock, P. M.

The Presbytery re-assembled at 3 o'clock, pursuant to adjournment.

John B. Tavenor, of Frederick county, was received under the care of the Presbytery, as a candidate for the ministry.

Henrie R. Smith and A. H. H. Boyd were chosen commissioners to the United Synod, and T. D. Bell and J. L. Frarie alternates.

On motion, the Presbytery then adjourned until this morning, at 9 o'clock.

We learn that the bounds of this Presbytery are quite extensive, and comprises within its limits, many very flourishing and influential churches.

We have no doubt but that our citizens generally, will avail themselves of the opportunity afforded, to attend the very interesting services connected with this meeting.

Rev. Robert Gray preaches at the Second Presbyterian Church, to-night.

FALL TRADE.—Our merchants are receiving and opening their Goods for the FALL TRADE, and will be prepared to sell to their customers whatever they may want, on the best terms. They have purchased with all the advantages, and can dispose of their stocks at the lowest rates. We hope to see a brisk business, and that our country friends, especially, will deal here largely.

RAIN.—On Wednesday night, this city and vicinity, were visited by a copious rain, which fell for several hours, moistening the earth for a considerable depth, and doing a great deal of good.

THE OFFICE OF THE ADAMS' EXPRESS COMPANY, on King street, was illuminated on Wednesday night, in honor of the success of the Atlantic Telegraph. In one of the lower windows of the building, were exhibited two miniature ships, representing the Niagara and Agamemnon, sailing in opposite directions, and paying out the cable. This design by Mr. R. W. Falls, the liberal and popular agent of the Company, in this city, was very handsome, and produced a fine effect. In addition to the illumination, rockets were set off in front of the building, besides a display of fireworks.

There was a celebration of the laying of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable, by many of the citizens of Washington and Georgetown, on Wednesday night. In Washington, several buildings were illuminated, and fireworks were displayed. In Georgetown, a national salute was fired.

OYSTER TRADE.—The R in the month, is conclusive, with a Virginian, that the Oyster season has commenced. The weather, however, is too warm, as yet, for eating oysters with safety, that are not just out of the water. By the way, we think with the Railroad facilities furnished, a large business might be done, during the winter season, in sending shucked oysters to different points in the country. The trade, as far as it went, was profitable, last year. It might be easily extended. Inducements should be held out to bring here the finest Potomac and Rappahannock oysters—both for home consumption, and the country trade.

THE OLD MAN who was found at the foot of a hill, at the corner of Princess and Fairfax streets, on Monday morning last, very seriously injured and who was taken to the Poor's House, is, we are informed by a gentleman well acquainted with him, and for whom he had worked as a gardener for a number of years, an Englishman by birth, and named Pearson. He came to this place from Baltimore, in the vicinity of which city he resided for upwards of forty years, and has a daughter living there now named Mrs. Elizabeth A. Caswell. His situation is now very precarious, as he has scarcely strength left sufficient to feed himself.

MANUFACTURES.—A correspondent, "ANVIL," in to-day's paper, discusses a very important subject, and to his remarks we invite the attention of all interested in the prosperity of Alexandria. Our citizens, generally, should now consider this matter. It is time that we were up and doing!

UNION PRAYER MEETING.—The members of the Winchester Presbytery, attended the Union Prayer Meeting at Srepta Hall, in a body, yesterday afternoon, and participated in the exercises, which were more than usually interesting and impressive.

SALE OF A FARM.—"Dresden," the farm of Mr. Horace Luckett, in Loudoun county, three miles from Middleburg, containing 361 acres, has recently been sold to Mr. Frank Fred, for $40 per acre.

THE WASHINGTON LIGHT INFANTRY are to celebrate their 22d Anniversary at Arlington Springs. The memory of G. W. P. Custis will be daily honored.

BY MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.

The Atlantic Telegraph Celebration. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 2.—The papers of this city and of New York contain long and interesting accounts of the celebration. The President, in his letter to the committee having the arrangements in charge, says:

"I regret that it is not in my power to unite with you in celebrating the triumph of this wonderful enterprise, which has been accomplished by the science, skill, and enterprise of the British and American people—It is a grand event in the history of the world, and let us hope, that under a superintending Providence, it may, in its consequences, promote the peace, and advance the civilization and happiness of all nations."

Cyrus W. Field, in his letter says: "If any place should especially rejoice that the Atlantic cable is successfully laid it is the city which was the home and holds the dust of that venerated philosopher, who first made the subtlest force of nature subservient to the uses of man."

Complimentary letters were received from the Mayors of Baltimore, New Orleans, Wheeling, Milwaukee, Louisville, and other cities, and from Governors of States and others.

Quarantine Attacked by a Mob. NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—At Staten Island, last night, about a thousand men broke into the quarantine grounds, and set the hospital and shanties on fire.
